

HAMILTON VOSE, OF MILWAUKEE, WINS THE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeats J. S. De Moss, of Green Lake, for State Honors on the Sinnissippi Golf Club's Links This Afternoon, Fourteen Up, Thirteen To Play.

STATE GOLF TOURNAMENT ENDS TODAY

First Event for Golfers of Wisconsin Has Been a Complete Success—Visitors Were Pleased—Something of the Final Events of the Meet.

Hamilton Vose, of Milwaukee, is little known. Allen put up a star game but ran up against a player who for coolness and nerve is hard to beat. At the end of the first nine holes Allen was three up. This lead DeMoss reduced until they were even at the fifteenth hole. Allen won the sixteenth, which left him one up and two to play. The seventeenth hole was halved by DeMoss making a forty foot putt, which left Allen one up and one to play. DeMoss won the eighteenth, which made them all even.

Nineteen Holes Necessary. Then they played one more hole to decide the tie. DeMoss made a beautiful drive to the edge of the green and Allen pulled his ball to the left in the long grass. He approached the hole and was about twenty feet short. DeMoss made an approach shot that left him short about the same distance. Allen put for the hole and missed, and DeMoss made another of his phenomenal puts and won the match.

Their scores for the eighteen holes were as follows:
De Moss—Out..... 4 5 5 4 5 5 5 5 5 5—46
Allen..... 3 5 4 4 4 5 5 5 5 5—42
In..... 4 5 4 4 4 5 5 5 5 5—48
In..... 4 7 4 5 5 4 4 6 7—46

McGiffin Is in Consolation Event. In the consolation event in the semi-finals Frank Jacobs, of Madison, defeated G. A. Yule, of Kenosha, six up and five to play, and H. S. McGiffin of Janesville, defeated Charles Schaller of Janesville, three up and one to play.

This leaves H. S. McGiffin and Frank Jacobs to contest for the consolation cup. A large crowd was present during the day and many ladies followed Allen and DeMoss the last nine holes.

Party for Players at Night. A stag party and supper was held during the evening for the male visitors and club members. The finals for the Richardson medal, presented by Mayor Richardson, will be played off the 21st. Albert Schaller and P. P. Baker, being paired for the finals. Schaller is picked by the knowing ones as the winner of the medal which he now holds, having won it last year from the same opponent who will try and win it this year.

Meeting of the Directors. The directors of the Wisconsin Golf association held a meeting at the Sinnissippi club house yesterday and adopted a constitution and bylaws. The principal features of which were, that an amateur championship event be held each year, and an entrance fee of $2 be charged each contestant for the cup. That a suitable gold medal be given to the cup winner and a cup be furnished for the best score in the qualifying round and a cup for the runner up and such other prizes as the club holding the tournament may see fit to offer.

Details of Yesterday's Play. The second day of the first annual tournament of the Wisconsin Golf association came to an end last evening. Golfers in all kinds of attire put in the day on the links. The course looks as if an army of men with hoes had tramped over it looking for a chance to plow up the sod. In all directions the familiar cry of "fore" could be heard, warning the player ahead to look out that he did not get struck with a "high ball."

Scotch and Irish clannish together on the links in total disregard of the fact that golf is the ancient and honorable game of the bonny Scots. The semi-finals for the championship cup resulted badly for Janesville as their only hope was defeated five up and four to play by Hamilton Vose, of Milwaukee.

DeMoss and Allen Even Match. The star game of the day was the match in the semi-finals between C. C. Allen of the Kenosha Country club and J. S. DeMoss of the Tusculum Golf Club, of Green Lake, Wis. These players had a hard fought battle which was only decided after nineteen holes had been played. Allen was known to be a golfer of national reputation and DeMoss was determination to leave home. The parents of the girl have notified the officers in the surrounding towns to arrest her and any one found in her company. She is a pupil of the high school and moved in the best society.

BRODHEAD GIRL WINS MEDAL

Miss Taylor Wins Declamatory Contest at Monroe

Monroe, Wis., July 20.—The second day's session of the Loyal Temperance Legion showed an increased attendance, 200 delegates being present. Nearly all of the state officers were present. Miss Margaret Taylor, of Brodhead, received the gold medal in the contest last night, Marie Brehm, the national lecturer, presenting the medal. Miss Effie Isely, of Monroe, received the second place.

A RECORD BREAKER CIRCLING GLOBE

He made the trip in sixty days, thirteen hours, and 29 minutes and 42 4-5 seconds. The best previous record was sixty-three days. The boy was given an ovation upon his arrival.

SWELL MUSICAL AT TOBACCO TOWN

Given by Mrs. Frederick W. Bentley, of Chicago, Assisted by Misses Atwood and Peterson.

An event of more than usual interest occurred in Edgerton last evening when Mrs. Frederick W. Bentley of Chicago, gave an English and German song recital in the Congregational church. Mrs. Bentley was assisted by Miss Janette Atwood, elocutionist, and Miss Peterson, pianist, both of Edgerton. Mrs. Bentley's selections were all of classic character and were given with rare taste and skillful interpretation. Her voice possesses great range and has been carefully trained by study under the best masters, both at home and abroad.

Musical lovers of Edgerton will be glad of an opportunity to hear her again. Her program was divided into three groups of three numbers each, the first number being Nevins' "Rosang"—A song in which the artist exhibited strikingly the well sustained tones and depth of expression conspicuous in that admired composition—it was sung too with the distinct enunciation that characterized all of Mrs. Bentley's performances. Perhaps the numbers "A Perfect Day" and "Polly Willis" may be mentioned as the most pleasing of her notably attractive program. The reading by Miss Atwood of a selection from "A Kentucky Colonel" held the delighted attention of the audience, during its most artistic delivery, she reads with good facial expression, a distinct pronunciation, and most intelligent appreciation of her subject. Her stage presence also is self possessed to a remarkable degree. The concert was given for the benefit of the parsonage fund.

Miss Alice Imman, of Clinton, is visiting relatives in this city.

STEEL STRIKERS REMAIN FIRM

Union Officials Feel Sure of Their Ultimate Success.

SO DOES THE TRUST

Big Mass Meetings are Held By the Union Leaders in Strike Centers.

END IS NOT IN SIGHT

Pittsburg, Pa., July 20.—A united effort will be made today to induce men employed in the mills of the National Tube company at McKeesport to join the ranks of the steel strikers. It appears that a majority of the men are organized and only waiting for the word to come out.

Situation Unchanged at Wellsville.

Wellsville, O., July 20.—The strike situation at the American Sheet Steel Mill here this morning is unchanged, no non-union men have arrived.

Wait Result of Big Meetings

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 20.—The whole region here waits on the results of the big meeting tomorrow at which the united mine workers are to define their position regarding the firemen's strike. Until then nothing of importance is expected. It is feared that the fight is on for indications are that the mine workers will insist upon firemen calling their strike off and waiting until next April. There is no violence in any part of the region.

No Hope of Compromise.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 20.—All hope of compromise in the steel strike seemingly is gone. J. Pierpont Morgan, in an interview in New York City declared there would be no concessions to the men, and that the combine was right in its stand, and tonight the state board of arbitration gave up its attempts.

President Shaffer in discussing the situation admitted that he had no expectation of arbitration, but declared that a finish fight would result in a victory for the men.

At the offices of the Carnegie company, and at the headquarters of the manufacturers, the usual silence is preserved concerning the condition of business or the status of the strike. President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association, however, expresses his entire satisfaction with the progress of the battle, and says that the workers have gained steadily while the manufacturers have lost continually since last Monday. He says up to the present time the Amalgamated forces contemplate no change in their program being perfectly satisfied with the showing that their people have made. President Shaffer says the advance in wages offered at the tube mill workers at McKeesport today, while seemingly large, will not bring the pay up to the union scale. Commencing in a day or two, weekly bulletins will be issued from Amalgamated headquarters to give workers and strikers news of the exact conditions of strike affairs.

Restless at Wellsville

From the storm center at Wellsville, O., tonight comes word that the striking mill men in that vicinity spent a restless day. There is no longer any doubt that the owners of the Wellsville plant of the American Sheet-Steel company have many of the town's largest merchants back of them in their fight against the workmen, and much bitterness has resulted. Confronted with what seems a certainty that if the present trouble goes along much further, the Wellsville plant will be lifted and brought across the line into Pennsylvania, grocers, clothing men, and others who for years have received the wages of the mill in exchange for goods are now trying to show the strikers that they are wrong and foolish in keeping up a fight.

Pressure brought to bear along this line, the strikers say, is energy wasted, as they are more determined to fight now than heretofore. They are more than angry with the merchants. These Wellsville men have been considered excellent workmen, and many of them have money invested in property here, so should the mill be taken to Vandergrift, as is threatened, they would suffer. They do not believe the promise which accompanies the threat that the mill from Dennison, O. will be taken to that place in case the present trouble is settled is true. The proposition has been put to the strikers in a semi-official way that if the strike is settled in a reasonable length of time, the Dennison mill will be taken to Wellsville to increase the resources of the place, and if the contest is long drawn out, the local plant will be moved bodily to Vandergrift, Pa.

It remains to be seen what effect this line of argument will have on the strikers. Mayor Dennis openly condemns the merchants for their course in the matter, and says that they are going beyond their province in trying to influence the workmen.

Plant Still Running

The plant there was running today about one-fourth full. Eighteen workmen together with many laborers and boys are employed. Superintendent Brookman says the force consists of forty persons. The report from Pittsburg that twelve non-union skilled men had been secured to go there proves untrue up to the present time, none having appeared today. The company officials say that the plant will be running full in a short time.

The reports tonight from Apollo and Vandergrift, where the Amalgamated association is making strenuous efforts to gain recruits, are that the situation is practically unchanged but much uneasiness is felt. No official report has reached here concerning the situation at Duncansville.

KENOSHA TO EXPEND $500,000

Plan to Build Houses for Workingmen in That City

Kenosha, Wis., July 20.—The manufacturers of the city met last night at the home of Z. Simmons to complete the arrangements for the purchasing of a large number of houses for the use of the workmen to be brought to Kenosha. Every manager in the city agreed to pay his share toward the expense of carrying out his plan as outlined a few days ago. It is thought that the carrying out of the scheme as planned will demand an expenditure of over $500,000 and the erection of houses will give employment to over 500 men.

RIOT IS PENDING IN CONNECTICUT

Judge Gager Arouses Public Indignation By His Sweeping Injunction Against Strikers.

Derby, Conn., July 20.—The feeling against the sweeping injunction of Judge Gager on the machinist strike is running so high among all classes of citizens that an outbreak would cause but little surprise. The case of Thomas Davis, a waiter, who was fined fifty dollars and costs by Gager for violating the injunction by saying "Scabs have come to town" has greatly increased the public indignation. His fine was paid by public subscription. Three men were arrested for peacefully trying to persuade non-union men to refrain from working. They were greeted like heroes by the strike sympathizers. A general chain of business and family relationship connects those opposed to the strikers, Gager being a member of the firm which does law-business for one of the largest foundries in the city.

TWO STATE BOARDS TO MEET AT DULUTH

The contingent fund can be used for purposes of investigation and prevention, but not to pay for what has been done.

SHOT A FRIEND FOR BURGLAR

Sidney Bristol, Formerly of Racine, Killed by Morton Cressy.

MEN WERE CHUMS

Harvard Graduate Mistakes His Friend for a Burglar, and Kills Him.

WAS FATAL MISTAKE

Battleboro, Vt., July 20.—Morton Starr Cressy, of Hartford, Conn., shot and instantly killed Sidney Bristol, of Battle Creek, Mich., yesterday morning, mistaking him for a burglar. The men were friends of long standing. They graduated from Yale together and entered the Harvard law school together. Cressy is 24 years of age. Bristol was about the same age.

During the vacation period Cressy has been stopping at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Philip Starr, in this city. Cressy discovered Bristol in town yesterday canvassing for a periodical and immediately invited him to the home of his grandmother. After a pleasant evening the men retired about ten o'clock. Cressy's slumber was disturbed about 2:40 a. m., when he awoke to find a supposed burglar holding him down in bed. Being a powerful young man, he wrenched himself free from the grasp of the other, leaped from the bed, snatched up a revolver from the bureau and fired four quick shots.

Hastily Cressy lighted a lamp, and as the rings of powder smoke rolled aside he saw Bristol lying on the floor. As he stood with senses numbed at the horrible situation he heard the faint words: "Oh, you have shot me, you have shot your friend." Cressy dropped down beside the man, but efforts to revive him were vain. Life was almost gone when Bristol spoke, and he died in a few minutes.

The other occupants of the house hastened to the room and several physicians were summoned. It was found that two shots had taken effect one striking Bristol's shoulder, while the other passed through his abdomen. Finding that the man was dead, the doctors notified the local authorities.

Cressy was placed under nominal arrest. He told all that he could to the coroner. The only way that he could account for Bristol's action was that he was dreaming or was in a fit of sleep-walking. It was not until he had fired the last shot that Cressy realized that he had shot his friend. The investigation of the coroner is not yet ended, but he will be exonerated beyond all doubt. His grief is pitiful.

Sidney Gray Bristol was born in Mount Pleasant, Wis., twenty-five years ago in August. He was a son of William Bristol, one of the leading farmers and horsemen of Southern Wisconsin. He was a graduate from the ward and high school of Racine. Afterward he attended the Rowlands academy and graduated from there. From there he went to Andover college and then to Williams college. When the Spanish-American war broke out Bristol went to the front with a New York regiment, and upon his return entered Yale college and graduated in 1900, a rich aunt of Racine paying all of his expenses. The father left Racine several years ago and settled in Battle Creek, Mich. Young Bristol made his home much of the time in Wisconsin. For several months he had been suffering with a disease and underwent several operations. The body of his mother is buried at Mount cemetery, Racine and the remains of the young man will be taken there for burial.

WILL SHIP STOCK UP TO WISCONSIN

Missouri Stockmen Will Bring Cattle to This State to Save Them from Starvation.

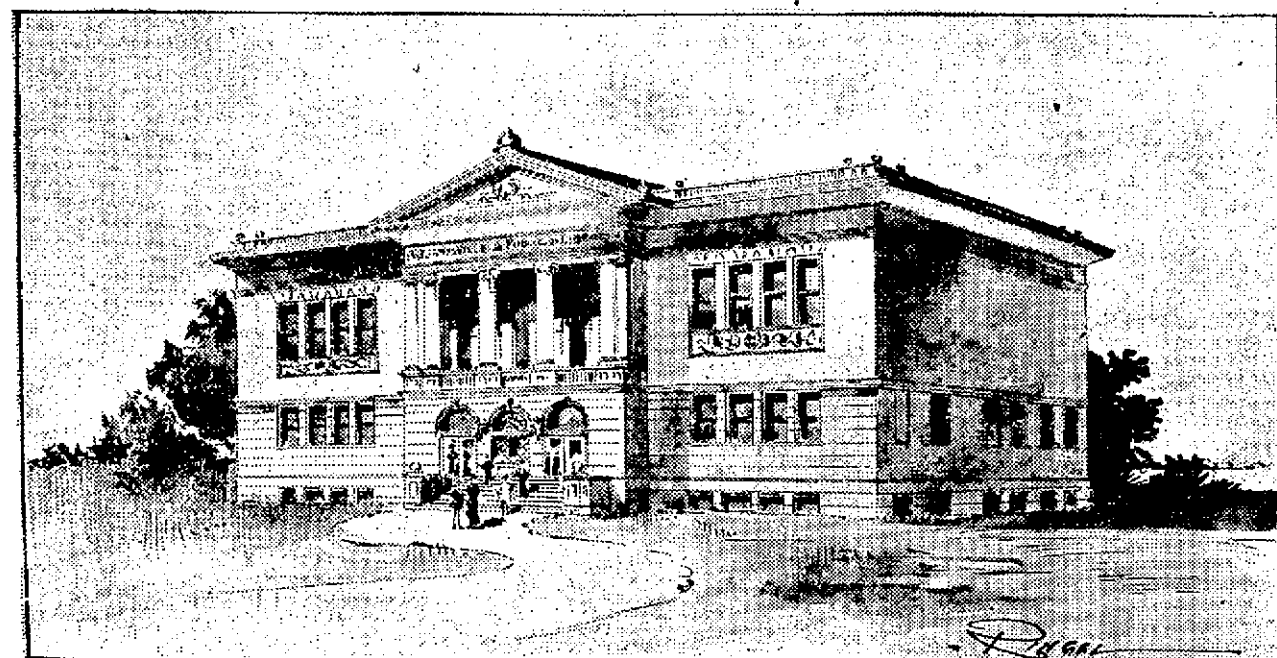

St. Paul, Minn., July 20.—E. O. Armstrong, a prominent stockman of eastern Missouri, arrived in St. Paul today and conferred with the general freight department of the Omaha railway with a view for the shipment of his stock from his country to northern Wisconsin.

He told some pitiful tales of the condition of his neighborhood where the farmers are cutting down trees in order that the stock might feed upon their branches. Water is so scarce as to command a high price and in one instance a farmer owning 125 head of cattle paid a neighbor $40 for water to water his stock once. Stock raisers find it cheaper to ship the cattle to northern Wisconsin where thousands of acres of clover timothy grass land is going to waste and where water is abundant.

The Omaha railway people are now arranging with the owners of large tracts of wildland along their line in northern Wisconsin for the free use of this land for grazing purposes.

ELKS WILL SHINE AT THE CARNIVAL

WILL DON THE ANTLERS AND START TUESDAY.

Milwaukee Will Be Their Camping Ground—Story of the Clock as It Applies to the Order of Elks—Order Originates with English Concert Hall Singer, Chas. Vivian, in 1865

Next Tuesday morning about eighty members of the local lodge of the Elks will go to Milwaukee, take up headquarters at the Pfister, and proceed to do their full share toward making the carnival one great, glorious success from start to finish.

Such unusual interest is being taken in this carnival and so gorgeously is Milwaukee making preparation for the entertainment of the Elks that some of the traditions of the order have been brought into prominence from the obscurity where they have rested, save in the knowledge of lodge members, for many years.

A pretty sentiment of the Elks is that for which the clock face with the hands pointing to the hour of 11 stands as a dumb reminder. These clocks' faces are becoming a prominent feature of the decorations in Milwaukee, and it is a strange phase of the curiosity of the crowds that not one in a hundred ever asks the significance of the emblem, although thousands daily view them with wonder. The reason for this, it is explained by Elks, is that the majority of people believe that the clock face is some secret symbol, and therefore they refrain from trying to pry into the inner mysteries of the order.

As a matter of fact, there is no objection on the part of the Elks to the story of the clock being told. The tale goes back to the time of the founding of the order in 1865 by Charles Vivian, an English concert hall singer, to whom the idea has always been credited. At that time Vivian was in New York playing an engagement with a minstrel company, and it being impossible for them to get anything to drink in any of the public buffets on Sundays, an open club, free to actors and newspaper men, was formed, all contributing to a fund with which enough beverages were bought to last over the dry day in the week. The club met in a boarding house much frequented by Thespians, and the fame of its jolly good fellowship spreading, and the membership soon became large, and the so-called "cork" fund a respectable amount. The fund was raised by fining the members small arbitrary amounts for violation of the "rules" of the club, the rules covering anything from a failure to remove the hat on entering a room to attempts to "stand-off" the landlady.

The club got the name of the "Jolly Corkers," and the fund becoming so large it more than covered the weekly expenses small amounts were diverted to aiding stranded and unfortunate associates of the members. P. T. Barnum, George W. Thompson and Tony Pastor then proposed that a permanent organization be effected so that the funds could be looked after properly. The name "Buffaloes" was one of the first titles proposed, but at a meeting held at Barnum's museum, where a gigantic moose was on exhibition, this was dropped, and the names "Moose" or "Elks" taken under consideration. Some favored the former and this caused a split among the organizers, two organizations being formed, the "Elks" proving the one to live. It was composed almost exclusively of actors and it became their habit to congregate evenings after 12 o'clock after the theater. As time went along and some of the members died it was proposed by Vivian, so the story goes, that at the hour of meeting one of the first acts should be to devote a moment of meditation to the memory of their departed associates. This custom was adopted and kept up, and today it is a feature of the meetings of every Elk lodge. In each lodge is kept a board on which is painted or posted the names of the dead members, and at the hour of 11 on lodge nights the members all stand and with their eyes fixed upon the list of the absent devote a silent moment to their memory.

There are other explanations, however, and one of them is a ribald idea to the effect that whenever a coterie of Elks get together they always remember that it is 11 o'clock somewhere and that therefore it is time to take a drink.

Strange, also, among the traditions of the order, is the story that Vivian who is generally acknowledged to have been the founder of the order, was never a full-fledged member. At the time the organization was perfected Vivian took a theatrical trip west, it is said, and during his absence certain of the members, who had grown to dislike him, organized and adopted a second degree to which Vivian was refused initiation on his return. On Vivian's death, in 1888, however, his memory was observed in most of the Elk lodges and in 1890 the Boston Elks removed his remains from Leadville, Colo., and reinterred them in the Elks' Rest cemetery in Boston.

CAN PLAY GOLF NIGHT AND DAY

The Newest Invention in Golf Balls Is Luminous.

Golfers who have regretted that they can not pound the little gutta percha ball around the links at night time, need worry no longer. They can play the game as well nights now as days, if reports of the newest invention in the way of golf balls are true. Most business men are too busy during the day hours to give much time to the sport. If they are not too busy, 95 degrees in the shade, as it has been for some time past, is too warm for even the most enthusiastic. But nothing stops a golf player.

At New Haven, Conn., those who were there to attend the state tournament Friday night made an experiment which may revolutionize the game. They tried the merits of an invention made by Dr. Henry McManus of Hartford by playing with golf balls dipped in phosphorescent oil and sulphur, and the test proved satisfactory to some extent. Dr. McManus first painted the balls with sulphide of calcium, thus bringing out a luminous white, and then with the phosphorescent oil and sulphur, which kept the balls illuminated longer. In the dark they could be seen very well when freshly painted. Playing continued for nearly two hours, and some very long drives were made. The holes were also painted with the phosphorescent preparation and most of the playing was done without any other light.

Going to the "Pan."

A number of early visitors to the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo have returned. Everything is now complete and the show is reported to be finer (if not so large) than the World's Fair. A great many have gone via Milwaukee and the new route, the Pere Marquette lake and rail to Detroit. A card of inquiry addressed to H. W. Jameson, T. P. A., Milwaukee, will bring you any information you wish concerning rates, time, etc.

Just Between Ourselves

It is an unfortunate coincidence that the weather clerk should have determined upon such a phenomenal summer this year when the movement for out-of-door improvement and school-yard decoration had just opened its eyes and started out on a promising career with great health for so young a child. The heat of the past several weeks which has burned and scorched up everything within reach to a crisp has not been the best possible encouragement for any progressive movements. It certainly seems a poor reward to the school children who labored so faithfully and took such interest in the making of flower beds and the planting of seeds, to the teachers who gave so much of their time and service to overseeing the work, to the janitors who have put in many a hard day of manual labor in preparing the ground and in trying to nurse plants and vines to a healthy growth in spite of the intense heat and to all people who have taken a keen interest in the work of the school yard decoration.

It surely is enough to take the heart out of a body, but youth is elastic and even though the attempt to beautify the school grounds is not such an artistic success as might have been wished for it has been a long forward step in the right direction, and next year the students of the schools will go to work with fresh courage and right good will.

It is surprising to see the interest which has been aroused in the work this year. Every effort has been made to keep the plants alive and the work has met with remarkable success, all things considered. Many of the janitors have devoted time, thought and labor to the work and it is a significant fact that will be hailed with delight by the promoters of the movement that at the Jackson school in Spring Brook, one of the families living near the building has cared for the plants all summer, watering them every evening.

It was at one of the exhibitions given by Prof. Gleason that I noticed a pretty little occurrence that was quite unusual in these days when little boys think it is the smart thing to look upon their girl companions with contempt. A manly little fellow of seven or eight years of age was seated with a pretty little maiden two or three years younger, waiting for the exhibition to begin. They were neighbor children and playmates and their parents were seated together in a party near by. The little maiden dropped her handkerchief and it fell down two or three seats. Quick as a flash her companion jumped from his seat, went for the handkerchief and returned it to its petite owner with a natural and unconscious civility that was pretty to see. It was only a little thing but trifles make up the sum of life and the little courtesies are the things that make it worth one's while to live.

County Clerk Starr says the weather clerk is ruining his business. Demands for marriage licenses are few and far between these days and the presiding genius of the license department lays all the blame at the door of King Sol and his accomplice, the weather clerk. Mr. Starr does not wonder at the dullness in the marriage market, however.

And when you come to look at it from matrimony's vantage ground of safety, when all fears of spinsterhood are a past experience so far removed as to be completely forgotten, what higher torture could be thought of than to be a starched-up, dressed up bride in the heat of the summer time. There is a good deal of romance about a summer bride and a wedding when the earth is in bloom is supposed to be an idyllic occasion. But the facts are not so romantic. Most brides have at least a slight desire to look their best during that most auspicious time in their lives, the honeymoon. The majority of women look anything but charming in these days when a handkerchief is the most necessary part of one's toilet, when faces shine like billiard balls, when straggling locks of hair refuse to curl or to stay in place, in fact when everything conspires to make woman a wilted and despairing looking specimen of humanity. Most young women, just entitled to be numbered among the young matrons, feel impelled to smile their sweetest and to be the most bewitching samples of good temper, at least for a few days after the ceremony. The ordinary mortal finds sufficient nervous strain in being commonly civil and ordinarily decent in these sweltering days when patience has been tried beyond endurance by the weather, when physical strength is exhausted and it is so easy to be irritable and altogether ugly.

The married woman for whom romance is a dead issue, the necessity of landing the fish before it slips off the hook is past and the horrible fear of never being able to own the coveted title "Mrs." has been quieted forever, is very decided in her opinion that the woman who runs the risk of a 110-in-the-shade wedding day and honeymoon is a fool. She wouldn't be married in her summer if she never had a husband. But the young woman who is willing to make some man happy by letting him pay her dress-maker's bills hasn't such decided opinions. In fact, history gives ground for the suspicion that there are people with whom weather, time or place cut no figure. Any old time, any old place, any old thing will do; only preserve them from the awful fate of finally lying under a tombstone inscribed with the name which they have borne from infancy preceded by "Miss."

Alley parties with foam crowned refreshments, given in the business heart of the city in the early evening are said to be quite popular with a certain circle of society folk. It is also rumored that not a stone's throw from the party last evening, a crowd of men were busily engaged in "rushing the can." Of course there was a distinction, but is there much of a difference?

The shirt waist man made his debut at church last Sunday morning. He carried his coat with him, evidently prepared to save himself the humiliation of being turned away from the church. But ministers and church deacons haven't such delicate sensibilities as hotel landlords and his coat was an unnecessary precaution. Strange to say no ladies fainted away and none left the church in indignation. The young man attracted no more attention than his fellow-men and the look of apprehension and resolution gradually faded from his eyes, giving way to one of perfect peace and comfort.

A well-known young man, whose business keeps him on the streets considerably, says that if this blawsted weather continues, he is going to adopt the fashion set for horses, buy one of their funny straw bonnets, soak a large sponge in water, put it in the crown of the hat and see if he can't get a little out of comfort. ## BORROWED MONEY TO CROSS THE SEA

CARNEGIE IS REMINDED OF A FAMILY DEBT.

A Poor Woman of Scotland Loaned His Mother Eleven Shillings To Help Pay the Family's Passage to America—Promise to Pay the Loan Forgotten—Heirs to Be Repaid.

Andrew Carnegie's dollar-scattering campaign in Great Britain has developed the alleged existence of a romantic debt the iron philanthropist's family left behind when it emigrated to the American land of plenty fifty-three years ago.

Henry D. Lennox, a resident of Glasgow, asserts that his aunt, loaned Mr. Carnegie's mother 11 shillings ($2.75) to help defray the family's ocean passage, receiving the promise of repayment when fortune should smile on the Carnegies.

Mr. Lennox calculates that at the rate of 5 per cent. compound interest the little obligation now amounts to $44. He suggests that if Mr. Carnegie can spare the change he might be disposed to remember his old friends. Mr. Lennox says:

"When the Carnegies left Dunfermline they were so poor that the mother had to borrow money to take them to the United States. My aunt, though a poor woman herself, helped them out to the extent of 11 shillings, but the promise to return the loan evidently escaped the memory of the beneficiaries, because they never repaid the sum borrowed."

"My aunt is dead, but she left two daughters, one of whom is the wife of a humble joiner in Dunfermline, while the other is a maiden lady engaged in a small drapery business in Edinburgh. Don't you think that if Mr. Carnegie knew this he would be willing to do handsomely by his mother's friends?"

Meavy Wellington Wack, general manager of a company whose services as a collection agency Mr. Lennox has enlisted says that the matter has been seriously investigated by Mr. Carnegie during his present visit to his highland castle of Skibo, and that he has decided to settle a very comfortable endowment on the heirs of the family of his benefactress.

Nothing Tastes Good

And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be.

This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.

If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long.

The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured the niece of Frank Fay, 106 N. St., South Boston, Mass., who writes that she had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years; had been without appetite and had been troubled with sour stomach and headache. She had tried many other medicines in vain. Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made her well.

SOME HINTS FOR CARE OF INFANTS

HOW TO TREAT THE LITTLE ONES IN SUMMER TIME.

Give the Baby Plenty of Fresh Air, Bathe it Daily, Dress it Lightly, and Don't Overfeed it Make Up the Gospel of Salvation From the Heat of July and August.

One hundred volunteer medical inspectors from the ranks of young physicians and workers in social settlements are going into the slums of Chicago under the direction of the Health department to preach the gospel of cleanliness, sunshine and fresh air.

Each of these volunteer inspectors will carry booklets printed in seven languages on the "Hot Weather Care of Infants." They are to enter the homes and talk to the mothers, to show them the proper ways of caring for babies and caution them to avoid the things which swell the averages of infant mortality in July and August.

The request for volunteers was made yesterday by Dr. John R. Neely of the Health department and a ready response is expected. Each inspector will be given a district in the portion of the city where the department's "spot" maps show a district of high infant mortality.

One-third of the total yearly deaths of infants and young children in Chicago occur in the two hottest months of the year—July and August. Heat kills off the babies and young children largely because it spoils their milk and other food quickly.

Parents in other cities besides Chicago will find some suggestions worthy of thought in the gospel for the salvation of babies which the inspectors are to preach in the slums and which are contained in the following article:

"Keep the baby clean and it will stand the heat better. It should have at least one full bath every day and oftener during extreme heat. Never bathe within one hour after feeding. Bathe first; feed afterwards.

"Dress as lightly as possible. It will be better stark naked—except for a napkin or a binder—some hours a day during hot weather.

The outdoor air even of a dirty street is fresher and better than the air in the house. Fresh air is the breath of life in a baby's mouth. Take it to the parks or the lake shore as often as possible.

Do not let the baby sleep in the same bed with any other person. If there is no crib the mother should put a couple of chairs at her bedside with any sort of covering on them except feathers or hot woolen stuff, and let the baby sleep there.

Don't overfeed children and don't let them overfeed themselves.

Use a plain common bottle for feeding without a tube. The rubber tube bottle is a device of the evil one for lazy mothers.

In the changeable summer climate care must be taken against sudden chilling. A thin, soft flannel binder wound two or three times around the body will do this.

If other than the natural food must be used, get the best milk. "scald it, (don't let it boil), and add a pinch of baking powder to the hot milk.

The Druggist Recommends LAXAKOLA

The Great Tonic Laxative, as the One Great Family Remedy for All Stomach Ills.

Skin Blotches

Muddy, Sallow Complexions Can Only Be Cured by Purifying the Blood. Laxakola Does It. Blotched, sallow, unwholesome and muddy skin, with its consequent mortification, often leading to mercurial scurvy, shows that your blood is bad. Laxakola does it, as well as acting directly on the pores and assisting the perspiratory glands to throw off impurities.

Constipation

Can Be Surely, Quickly and Permanently Cured. Laxakola Does It. You have a full feeling, with dizziness, headache, heartburn, palpitation, foul breath and bad taste, the stomach becomes distended, the eyes heavy and yellow, and the skin pale, sallow, muddy and blotched accompanied by loss of sleep, appetite and vitality. Laxakola at once relieves and speedily cures these by toning up the stomach, increasing the flow of gastric juice, resulting in a return to the natural feeling of good health.

LOVE AND SENTIMENT.

The little child that puts its arms around your neck, and with a good, tight hug imprints a kiss on your cheek, and says, "I love you mother," is inspired by love.

When the same boy comes to you twenty years later, in his young manhood, and shyly puts his arm around your waist, and looking into your careworn face, says in a voice full of sympathy,

"You look tired mother. What can I do to help you?" it is an expression of the same genuine love, matured with the passing of the years.

When he comes to you in middle life, after an absence of a dozen years, and contributes to your comfort and happiness, by many little thoughtful acts of kindness, you thank God that your declining days are cheered by the presence of the boy who has grown into your heart as the years went by.

It is just as natural for the human heart to love as it is for the faithful dog to love his master, and yet it is possible for human affection to be so neglected through love of self, that this brightest jewel is tarnished beyond recognition.

The girl who is all solicitude for the mother in the presence of company, but who sits in the parlor on wash day morning, drumming on the piano, and humming "Who will care for mother now?" while the mother is sweating at the kitchen sink, has lost out of her heart the love of childhood and in its place is cultivating, perhaps unconsciously, a sentiment that springs from selfishness.

The boy who tips his hat to passing acquaintance, and meets his friends with a smile and cheery "Good morning," but who ignores the most common courtesies in the home, and speaks of his father as "the old man," and treats his mother as "the old woman," who never contributes anything to the home but a complaint, and whose absence is a relief rather than a regret, may make a success of life, but he is building on an incomplete foundation, and not only causing unnecessary sorrow, but missing much of the joy that requited love inspires.

There are a great many husbands who are good lovers on dress parade, and a great many wives who are similarly talented, but the love is only face deep, and when the door of the home shuts them in, the subterfuge is abandoned, and they simply tolerate each other.

In such homes, and they are all too plenty, the affection of the children is divided, and usually dwarfed and shriveled, long before they are ready to leave the place.

Enveloped in such an atmosphere it is not at all strange that child life develops abnormally and that sentiment takes the place that love was intended to occupy.

There has been nothing in the home life to indicate that love was sacred, and the real has been absorbed by the sham so completely, that the finer sensibilities are destroyed.

The home is not always the best exponent of genuine affection, because so many homes are simply held together by legal cords, rather than by the golden cords of love and sacrifice.

The summering and wintering together frequently unmasks skeletons, that a courtship acquaintance never discovered, and the revelations are so disappointing, that frequently the home never recovers from the shock. A good many divorces are obtained nowadays, because of incompatibility, and the word covers a multitude of sins.

The wife likes society, and the husband is a plodder. He is absorbed in business and cares nothing about the social amenities of life. The wife represents the piety of the family, and goes to church alone. If she attends the theater, the husband is never with her, and he considers it a waste of time to spend an evening at a party.

And so they drift apart, both good people, but having no interests in common, until existence together becomes unbearable, and they seek relief in divorce.

Here is a woman who is intellectual, and whose soul is full of music. She finds her highest enjoyment in art and sculpture, and loses all trace of time in company with her favorite authors.

She is at home with cultured people and cares more for the association of kindred spirits than for the little group around the home fire side.

The husband's tastes are entirely different. He has a passion for field sports, and enjoys nothing so much as an outing with rod and gun. His club room is decorated with pictures of forest and stream, and his closest companions are men of like tastes. To him the home soon becomes a convenience, and the wife everything but a companion. It is not at all strange as the years roll by, that this man and woman tire of restraint and seek release from a union that was all a mistake.

Here is another woman, gentle, patient, thoughtful, doing all she can to make the home cheerful and home like. Every want of her husband is anticipated, and every wish gratified.

She sees in the man who is fast slipping away from her because of evil habits and associations, the picture of the boy that courted her back in the days of her girlhood, and she tries by every art of love to hold him. But he is possessed of a demon inspired by drink, against which every entreaty is vain, and so the home becomes a wreck, and the wife is compelled to carry all the burdens alone.

There comes a time when she turns away with the bitter plea, "How long, oh Lord, how long?" and as a last resort she severs the nuptial tie and leaves the man she has ceased to love.

These cases, and they are not rare, may justify a legal separation, but here the farce should end.

The marriage relation and the home are too sacred to be idly broken up.

What American homes need today, more than any other one thing, is the spirit of sacrifice, which is the only evidence of genuine love, and less of the sentiment that sails under the flimsy guise of incompatibility.

The true wife and mother is the highest ideal of womanhood, and the true husband and father the highest ideal of manhood.

Better the genuine home, with art and music left out, if it need be, and gun and rod abandoned, than all the art and fishing tackle, with love left out.

The home is not the only place where sentiment takes the place of love. The same weakness is frequently discovered in the church, and in the lives of people who profess supreme love for God.

It is comparatively easy to be good for forty days in Lent, but something of a struggle for the other 225 days, when obligations are less binding.

The piety of the year is too frequently crowded into the fifty-two days called "Sundays." It is so much easier to pray than it is to work, and so much easier to shout than it is to lift, that the world is long on prayer and shouters, but short on cheerful Christian toilers.

When love to God and love to humanity is more generally recognized, there will be more happy homes and hearts, and the greatest of Christian virtues will have accomplished its mission.

WHERE THE COUNCIL ERRS.

Judge John W. Sale has decided that the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co. had no right to lay a track on Prospect avenue without the consent of the council. Therefore the aldermen rejoice, but the decision is in no way a justification of the position of the council in the railway matter.

The citizens of Janesville want the new depots built. The council is within its legal rights in refusing to allow this, the same as it would be within its legal rights if it refused to allow a franchise for any public utility. The council has the power to impede or prevent almost any public improvement, but the mere fact that the council has this power in no way justifies its enforcement in the prevention of improvements favored by ninety-nine per cent. of the people, as in the present case.

There are no available sites in the city of Janesville upon which passenger and freight depots could be erected with less damage to surrounding property. Depots are "necessary evils"—if evils they be—and they must be built somewhere. Tracks are already laid on High and North Main streets, but the St. Paul company can, if necessary, purchase other sites, and lay tracks on other streets—streets that are not already defaced with rails. If the company sees fit to do this, the council cannot prevent it, provided the track laid is for a "main line." All switch and side tracks could be made to diverge onto the company's own property, and realty owners would only have recourse in an action for damages.

The council can best serve the city by ceasing this senseless opposition to the company, for, as everyone knows, the sites selected, bought and owned by the St. Paul company could not be improved upon, no matter where the proposed buildings are located.

When the late Judge M. M. Phelps was asked for an opinion regarding the legal right of the city to purchase the water works plant, he said: "As a judicial officer I do not care to express a legal opinion as to whether or not the city can buy, but I have no hesitancy in saying that I think the city had better not buy it if it can."

With a few alterations this reasoning applies to the council's position in the railway matter. The question of what the city can or cannot legally do is one thing, but what it should or should not do, is quite another.

Janesville has had one-man rule long enough, and it is high time that the emperor was deposed. Every municipal question is decided single handed by this man, and both political parties are domineered. Isn't it about time to call a halt?

Constant Reader.—There is no use complaining about the electric lights because nothing will be done. If the light near your house is "out all the time," as you claim, you should hang up a lantern.

"An honest man is the noblest work of God"—despite the fact that a man who once threatened to expose the ring that furnishes the slot machines now defends the aforesaid ring.

According to a public print, a man was hunting fruitlessly, of course, for a hic the other night. The hics should "get a hickey on themselves."

THE FIT FOLLOWS FALSE ALARM

The third stranger had come to town.

This time the rolls of bills the stranger carried outweighed by several pounds, the roll carried by any other stranger.

'Twas a corker. Alderman Jamesby was somewhat suspicious when the business man introduced the gentleman with the cash.

"More trouble, I suppose," he grunted to himself.

"I have come here to invest more money than anybody," said the stranger. Can I take the chance? I do not ask any one for a cent, and will pay all costs, claims and damages growing out of my coming. I will issue a bond in any sum required to guarantee the statement. I do not ask a single concession. I want to build two buildings, one a —"

But Jamesby had gone off the handle and the purplish color was again seen. As he writhed and foamed at the mouth, the stranger turned away.

"I didn't want to build any depots," he said. "I wanted to put up two warehouses, but I guess I won't stay here. I don't like the looks of things."

And the next train took him to Madison.

Where they encourage capital. And seek new investments. And nag not.

TO PUT LOUIS ON THE THRONE

Alleged Conspiracy to Overthrow the French Republic Sept. 14.

London, July 20.—The Pall Mall Gazette today publishes a communication from its Paris correspondent giving circumstantial details of an alleged conspiracy to overthrow the French republic and install Prince Louis Napoleon as emperor. The correspondent is assured that Sept. 14, upon which date the czar intends to promote Prince Louis to a full generalship in the Russian army, has been selected as the occasion for a demonstration to support the claims of this prince, who is such a close friend of their Russian ally, by all the elements opposed to the present regime.

The names of M. Deroude, the Marquis de Lur Saluces and M. Marcel Habert are mentioned as the leading spirits of the movement, and several high functionaries of the present government are alleged to be assisting the movement with funds.

Cause of Berlin's Failures.

Berlin, July 20.—A director of one of the most famous private banks in Berlin said: "The existing situation is due more to the crimes of a few directors of banks and industrial companies than to the industrial status. Those crimes have had the effect of spreading an exaggerated fear among the public of a greater crash; but we are confident that the worst has passed, and we do not expect any more great failures. The present situation grew largely out of the over-rapid extension of industrial establishments, some of which are not yet completed, and many of which are not profitable. All these subject such companies to great strain and several years will be required for them to reach profits again. Many small but thoroughly sound concerns are also in danger through the curtailment of banking credits which they have been accustomed to use for working expenses."

Degraded in Regiment's View.

London, July 20.—"Count Gabriel Kepezey, a first lieutenant in one of the Honved Hussar regiments," says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Budapest, "has been formally degraded in degraded before the whole regiment. He made a daring bet that he would cut off the right ear of his best friend, Caspar Kanyo, with his saber. He then approached the unsuspecting Kanyo and slashed off his ear. Kanyo shot at Kepezey with his revolver, but missed him. Then, turning to the mirror, and seeing himself without an ear, he turned his revolver against himself and fell dead. The colonel, in degrading Kepezey, warned the officers of the regiment against debauchery and drunkenness."

THIRD ELECTRIC NOW IN SIGHT

TO CONNECT JANESVILLE WITH DELAVER AND GENEVA.

Sup't Geo. J. Hurd of the Janesville Street Railway Company, the Prime Mover in the Enterprise—He Also Represents Eastern Capitalists—Thirty-Four Miles of Road.

There is a prospect of Janesville having another inter-urban line exclusive of the one which is now being laid between Rockford and Janesville and of the proposed road from Madison.

Applications have been made for franchises in several cities for an electric line running from Lake Geneva by the way of Delavan, Elkhorn, and Janesville, with this city as the terminal point. Franchises are being asked for at Lake Geneva, Elkhorn and Delavan and one will be applied for in this city in the near future.

Superintendent George J. Hurd, of the Janesville Street Railway Company and Attorney Thos. S. Nolan, attorney for the promoters, were interviewed last evening by a Gazette representative at the home of Mr. Nolan. Supt. Hurd is the prime mover in the affair and while negotiations looking to the organization of the company have been going on for some time an effort has been made to keep the facts under cover. Correspondents of Milwaukee and Chicago papers in cities where franchises have been asked for have been requested not to send the information forth but the notices published in the papers outside of Janesville gave the scheme away.

Supt. Hurd informed the Gazette representative that while no surveying had been done over the line the route had been gone over by a civil engineer who had reported a route running from Janesville to Johnston Center over the Johnstown road. The intention is then to proceed to Delavan, Delavan Lake, Elkhorn and Geneva. Mr. Hurd said that the length of the road would be about thirty-four miles.

Supt. Hurd also represents some capitalists of Philadelphia, who desire to invest in the road. As yet no franchises have been obtained, but Supt. Hurd does not anticipate any trouble in securing them in the various places. The road, if built, will be of the standard gauge and will be operated by an overhead trolley. The power house will probably be located at Janesville.

There is no doubt but that in a few years this entire country will be honeycombed with electric car lines. The education of the public is tending in that direction very rapidly and there are many who trust that Supt. Hurd may be successful in his plans.

HAS A CLOSE CALL TO BEING INJURED

Miss Margaret McGiffin Jumps From a Buggy, Falls, and Then Faints Dead Away.

Miss Margaret McGiffin had a close call to being seriously hurt last evening while out buggy riding. Miss McGiffin and Miss Pearl Johnson were out driving and when in front of the Jackson block on West Milwaukee street their buggy came in contact with another buggy which had stopped suddenly. The front wheel of Miss Johnson's rig ran up onto the rear axle of the buggy ahead of them. As the rig careened to one side and cramped the wheel, Miss McGiffin jumped out and fell between the wheels. Her fall so frightened her that she fainted away. She was removed from under the buggy by bystanders and carried into the drug store of the People's Drug company where she soon recovered from the shock and was able to go to her home.

TWO FIRE ALARMS SENT IN Department Has Two Hot Runs This Afternoon

An alarm of fire sent in at 2:10 from box 113 called the department to Howe Brothers hat factory. A broken wire in the private alarm system was the cause of the run. The department had just reached the houses and had not had time to unhitch when an alarm from box 131 came in. The department again went out and found that the cause of the alarm was a grass fire between Washington street and the Evansville Cut-Off, started probably by a spark from a passing train.

CITY HALL BIDS ARE NOW ALL IN

TWO LOCAL FIRMS ARE AMONG THE MANY BIDDERS

Council Committee Decides Not to Announce the Result This Noon When the Bids Were Opened—Competing Contractors Not Pleased With Committee's Action.

Bids for the construction of the new city hall were received at the city clerk's office today up to 12 o'clock. At that time the building committee assembled and after opening the bids adjourned until five o'clock, when they will hold another meeting and will announce the amount of the bids. The specifications call for three styles of finish, and a bid for each kind. On this account the committee asked for a little time to examine the bids.

This mode of procedure was not at all to the liking of the contractors and they were not slow in expressing their opinion of this way of doing business. They claim that the bids should be opened at the time specified and the amounts of the bids made public, so that all contractors should know the amount of the bids of the parties bidding against them.

Bids were received from Sherer & Peters, and Cullen Brothers, of Janesville, James Rawson & Sons, Iowa City, Ia.; A. W. Mohrke, Grand Rapids, Mich.; J. W. McAlpin, Dixon, Ill.; and Elam Miller, Le Mars, Iowa.

SEWER GAS NEARLY CAUSES A DEATH

Herman Arndt Was Unconscious For Nearly Two Hours From the Effects of Poisoned Air.

Herman Arndt, a well digger, was overcome by sewer gas this morning while at work at the bottom of an eighty foot well at the home of Walter Taylor on Chatham street. It was only after an hour and a half's hard work on the part of the people present, that he was finally revived.

Taylor's barn was destroyed by fire yesterday and he had Arndt come up to see if the well which is near the barn had been injured. He was lowered into the well in a bucket and on reaching the bottom was overcome by the gas, that had collected. He had just strength enough to give a tug at the rope and was hauled to the surface more dead than alive.

FRITZ VOELKE HURT IN A RUNAWAY

Was Thrown Forcibly From a Wagon and Badly Bruised—A Narrow Escape.

Fritz Voelke, who resides on Racine street, had a runaway this afternoon that might have resulted seriously for him. He was driving north on Washington street in a democrat wagon, when the bolt that holds the shafts into the clip on the axle broke, and allowed the shafts to drop down on one side, hitting the horse on the heels and causing him to run away. The wagon swayed from side to side and finally struck a telephone pole near the Palmer hospital.

Voelke was thrown to the ground and considerably bruised. The horse broke loose and went on up the street. The patrol wagon was returning from the fire at the time of the accident and picked up the injured man and carried him to Dr. Joe ... ..'s office where his injuries were attended to.

It was found that the injured man's right leg was broken above the ankle.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

John E. Hayner, of Madison, greeted old friends today.

F. M. Whetstone, of Beloit, was in the city yesterday.

COLORED PASTOR OF CHICAGO HERE

REV. J. J. ANDERSON WANTS TO RAISE CHURCH MORTGAGE.

Divine is Spending His Vacation in the Interests of a Struggling Church in West Chicago—He Was Once a Tennessee Slave, a Stone Cutter and a Boat Steward

Rev. J. J. Anderson, pastor of the Palestine Baptist church, of Chicago, is in the city and will remain here for about a week. Rev. Anderson is on his summer vacation and he is spending it in a novel way. In fact most people would hardly call it a vacation inasmuch as he is devoting his time to working for the church of which he is the pastor.

The Palestine Baptist church is a church for colored people and its pastor was once a Tennessee slave. The church is an outgrowth of mission work and has been recently erected. It is an unpretentious building which cost $5,000, but was built by poor working people and there is still an indebtedness of $1,000 on it. It is this debt for which Rev. Anderson is seeking to raise money and in the interests of his church he is visiting several Wisconsin cities.

Rev. Anderson is a venerable gentleman, whose hair is liberally sprinkled with white. He is sixty-two years of age and has had a varied experience, his story being an interesting one. In the civil war he marched many weary miles with the Confederate army and fired many a bullet for the Union cause, being on both sides of the great conflict. Before the war he was a slave in the family of "Bob" Anderson of Nashville, Tenn. When the great struggle began, his master's three sons joined the Southern army, all being officers, and the colored boy went with them as a servant. They were all taken prisoners but the slave was set free and a short time after, when Lincoln called for more volunteers, he joined the Union army and served till he was mustered out at the close of the war. Then he drifted northward.

Rev. Anderson has not always been a minister of the Gospel. When a young man he was a stone cutter and then for twenty-five years he was a steward in hotels and on steamers. He has been preaching for the past seventeen years and during all of that time, he says, he has never received a salary, relying always on the contributions of his people. Rev. Anderson will remain here until next Friday when he will go to Milwaukee.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE TO MEET

Several Delegates from the Local Church Will Attend B. Y. P. U. Convention in Chicago.

Several young people of this city will go to Chicago the coming week to attend the eleventh annual convention of the Baptist Young People's Union to be held in the Coliseum from the 25th to the 28th inclusive. The delegates will represent the Christian Endeavor society of the Baptist church, of this city, an organization which many of the members are anxious to have changed to a B. Y. P. U.

Those who will doubtless attend the Chicago convention from this city are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grove, Mrs. J. T. Fitchett, Miss Irene Van Vranken, Miss Elizabeth Stoddard and Rev. Richard M. Vaughan. The appointment of the delegates is in the hands of a committee appointed by the local society at a recent business meeting. This committee includes J. T. Fitchett, Mrs. N. H. Lawrence and Mrs. A. C. Campbell.

Officers of the Chicago Baptist Young People's Union are busy with the preliminaries of the convention and are doing everything in their power to have the entire meeting a great success. Meetings of the reception, registration and entertainment committees were held recently at the Great Northern hotel. The officers say the greater part of the preliminary work has been attended to and that a few days will see the local chapters ready for the task of caring for the 15,000 members of the organization who are expected to be present.

The program of the affair includes addresses by well known ministers and members of the union from all parts of the country. Among those who will speak are the Rev. G. Campbell Morgan. A feature of the convention will be music by a chorus of 1,000 persons chosen from among the Chicago chapters. The following are the members of the central committee: L. A. Crittenden, chairman; Joseph Schneider, secretary; George H. Shorney, treasurer; the Rev. R. E. Manning, James G. Eldon, H. R. Clissold, W. E. Gillespie, the Rev. Gilbert Frederick, the Rev. M. P. Boynton, W. E. Brown, F. S. Gaskood, the Rev. G. A. Hagstrom, J. S. Dickerson, H. B. Osgood, Edward Alswede.

A new method of depositing round trip special rate excursion tickets issued on the certificate plan is to be put into operation in Chicago from July 25 to 28, during the session of the Baptist Young People's Union. Instead of having a central headquarters in the downtown district where the visitors might deposit their tickets and get them when they were ready to depart, the conductor on each train entering the city will take up each ticket before reaching the city. He will give a receipt with instructions on the back telling the name of the road on which the ticket is good to return and in what railroad ticket station the original ticket is held.

When the visitor is ready to start for home all he has to do is to make an early start for his train, present his receipt to the ticket agent of a specified road, and get the return portion of his transportation.

Would Not Spare the Women.

Trenton, N. J., July 20.—"I would give any man a divorce if his wife hit him. If he struck her she should obtain a decree and it should not be denied the husband if she is the offender." Vice Chancellor Reed delivered this opinion this morning and told William Smithkins that he could be divorced if he brought suit on the grounds of cruelty. He said this in denying Smithkins a divorce on the charge of desertion. Smithkins proved that his wife had struck him repeatedly and at one time spat in his face. He said he didn't bring suit on the grounds of cruelty because he didn't want to hurt her feelings. The result is he will have to pay her board or ask for a divorce on other grounds than those given in the suit which has just been heard.

For Municipal Ownership.

Portland, Ore., July 20.—The commission consisting of thirty-three representative men of Portland, appointed by the last legislature to revise the charter of this city and submit it to the next session of the legislature for acceptance or rejection without amendment, have decided by a vote of 19 to 5 to reserve to the city the right to own, acquire, construct, and maintain water, gas, electric light works, steam, water, or electric power plants, telephone lines, and street railways.

Picking New Danish Cabinet.

Copenhagen, July 20.—King Christian has intrusted Dr. Dountzer with the task of organizing a liberal ministry to succeed the De Schested cabinet, which resigned Wednesday. The following selections have already been made: President of the council, Dr. Dountzer; minister of justice, Albert; minister of the interior, Count Holstein; minister of foreign affairs, Alfred Hage; minister of finance, Christensen; minister of agriculture, Ole Hansen. It is expected that the list will be completed tomorrow.

Boers Attack Patrol Party.

Cape Town, July 20.—A British patrol from Sutherland encountered a party of Boers twelve miles out. The burghers opened fire at a distance of fifty yards. The men in the patrol retired to a kopje, from which they engaged the Boers for five hours, when the latter withdrew. Small parties of Boers are hovering on the outskirts of Graaf Reinet. Lord Kitchener has commuted the sentence of death passed on thirty-four Boer prisoners to penal servitude for life at Bermuda.

F. A. TAYLOR & CO.

THE KAZOO ...

What Is It?

It is the latest and most complete device in boy suspenders and hose supporters combined that has ever been brought to the attention of mothers who desire to avoid the annoyance of their boys' hose coming unfastened or hose supporter giving out continually.

It is made of the very best and strongest material, using rubber cord of 72 strands, which outwears any elastic web that can be produced. Also we use the Cyclone grip for the hose, which avoids any possibility of their coming unfastened or of cutting the hose. It is made adjustable, so you may hold the hose perfectly smooth. The suspender part buttons as does other suspenders, with same 72 strand rubber strand cord for ends which does not lose the elasticity as does the common web suspender, thereby avoiding the annoyance of having the buttons pull off because of the stretch being out of the suspender, as this end holds its elasticity till worn out.

The prices on the Kazoo is only 50 cents and 75 cents, and the fact that they will outwear any other suspender or supporter by great odds, makes them the most economical article ever offered in this line. They are made in sizes from 4 to 14.

Do not economize by allowing your boy to wear common elastic around the limb, as you endanger the health by stopping the circulation and increase the doctor bill.
